Open Access publications on Torrossa

Torrossa gives academic publishers the possibility to offer research content to the scientific community in Open Access.

A dedicated portal hosts the content that contributing publishers wish to make available in open access: TorrossaOpen <http://oa.torrossa.com>.

53 journals and over 350 ebooks are already available online; new content will be added regularly.

All users may access texts freely, without requesting access credentials from Casalini Libri. Any potential variations to the offer of available content are subject to the authors' or publishers' adherence to the platform.

ADD OPEN ACCESS TITLES TO YOUR TORROSSA COLLECTION

Select the Open Access titles you require and integrate them within an existing or new institutional collection to enjoy the following additional benefits:

- Permanent access to content guaranteed, regardless of future publisher/author policies, at www.torrossa.com
- Creation and supply of MARC records for upload into the library catalogue
- Maintenance of metadata guaranteed, and continued supply of metadata and permalinks to Discovery Services
- Continued maintenance and upgrade of the technology supporting the files
- Technical support and problem solving
- Use of the platform's advanced tools for searching and consulting the material

The advantages provided by an institutional collection are subject to a technical fee, in order to cover the costs of collection management and maintenance.
